Personal Charts

Natal Chart

Understand your journey and recognize native talents, ideal vocations, and life's possibilities. We look at how others see you, your resources, education, career, travel, life purpose, karmic lessons, and what holds you back. We also look at the vitally important area of your relationships with children, parents, relatives, love affairs and significant others, marriage partners, and friends.

Depending upon time allotted, also includes:

Daze Of Our Lives™ – meaning of your birth day as a day of the week

The Names We Wear™ - meaning of your name

Your off-balance vulnerability point as shown by Vera Tex The Tornado™ and Kat-man-do The Silent Creeping Secret™

Your Trigger point as shown by East Point Let It All Hang Out™ and West Point Attention™;

It is always wise to start with a natal chart consultation, whether with Lee or another professional astrologer. Progressed, Directed, and Transit charts relate to your natal chart and, without understanding who you were born to be, annual updates may not be as useful.

Progressed Chart with Transits – 12-month forecast

The planets move at a rate mentioned in the Bible, “year for a day.” The inner planets (those closest to the Sun) move more swiftly than the outer planets. These movements can help us see what energies are at hand in our present time as well as give us a 'heads-up' regarding our futures. Usually a progressed chart is ordered annually to see what is coming up for the next year. These charts are calculated using your current city of residence, not natal city.

Directed Chart with Transits - 12-month forecast

This chart is not often used but also can give us insight into current and future events in our lives. Rather than showing planetary movement according to a "year for a day," all of the planets in the natal chart move forward by the same amount as the Sun's forward movement. Directed charts are typically ordered annually to see what is coming up for the next year. These charts also are calculated using current residence location, rather than natal city.

Astro-Carto-Graphy Map

On the map of the world, the planets as they appeared at your birth can be seen as lines that are vertical as well as curves that ascend and then descend. These lines indicate where we have various experiences and such experiences depend upon which planet we are discussing as well as how that planet is aspected in our natal chart. This information helps us to understand why we may have certain experiences in specific locations. It is helpful regarding our current residence as well as places we plan to visit or to which to move. We will see what energies are at play for us, whether positive or negative.

One must have accurate time of birth for this chart to be valid.

Local Space Map

This also is a locational chart, but not using the Astro-Carto-Graphy formula. This map shows all of the lines are moving outward from the location, almost like petals on a flower. From the Local Space Map, we can find the best direction for all activities. For example, we look at the ruling planet of the client's 2nd house and recognize in which direction one should find one's bank. When extended to other states and countries, we can determine what types of energies await us.

One must have accurate time of birth for this chart to be valid.

Return Charts

In a return, we calculate the planetary layout for the current year, but with the planet upon which we are focusing being located at the exact degree and minute it was when we were born. Obviously, all the other planets will be different and the return planet may well be in a different house in the return chart than it was in the natal chart. Returns can be:

Solar (annual), Lunar (28 to 29 days), Mercury (every 10 to 12 months, but depends on planet's retrograde patterns which may mean there are 3 returns a year), Venus (every 11 months, again Retrogrades have strong effect), Mars (22 to 24 months), the 4 Asteroids, Jupiter (every 12 years), Saturn (28 to 30 years), Chiron (around 50), and possibly Uranus (if one is 72 years old). We do not live long enough to have Neptune and Pluto returns.

Lunar returns require accurate time of birth.

Relationship Charts – Comparisons and interactions with others

Comparison of Charts

Most people choose a comparison of charts in order to learn how to live more productively with others. We are individuals and each has our own chart. By comparing your chart with the chart of another person, you can determine how to 1) either live in a more agreeable relationship with that individual by accepting both the positives and negatives or 2) walk away. Often, we are in relationships due to karmic debts and once these are paid, we no longer have to deal with that individual. It is important to have accurate birth times for both individuals, although not absolutely necessary. However, we do need the accurate time for the person asking for the comparison reading.

These charts can be for two adults, a parent compared to child's chart, individual compared to boss or co-workers, teachers with students – we're simply looking at how the two individuals relate to each other.

Two People Create a New Personality

This is not comparing two charts. Instead, we take the positions of the planets and other factors in each chart and find the middle point. Example, the new “Sun” would be that point exactly between the Sun in each chart. This is the energy we give off as a couple, NOT individually. This is one way people see us together – they take the “best” of each of us and tone it or “tune it” to the other. The new positions may be in harmony or very dissonant. We need complete birth data for each person, including exact time.

Two People Create a New Natal Chart

From the birth data of each chart we construct a new chart with its own date and time. This is not midpoints of what exists in the previously mentioned "Two People Create a New Personality." Instead, it is a completely new being that expresses the location of the planets, etc., for that DATE and LOCATION formed from the other charts. This is similar to a natal chart and is something the two people together can create in the world and it will be positive or negative depending on the planets and how they relate to our individual charts. We need accurate date, time and place of the two individuals in order to correctly calculate and delineate this chart.

Horary Charts

Sometimes we have specific questions to ask. A Horary chart is calculated based on the time we ask the question and there is only ONE correct time: when it has to come out of us! The time must be precise. Write the question down and write down the exact time and place. If you need to, check your clock time with that on cable or by telephone "Time and Temperature." We cannot do two horary charts for the same question. There is only one time and that stands, even though sometimes we don't like the answer we get.

Other

If you want Arabian Parts, Parts of Destiny, and Fixed Stars listed for your consultation, we can do this, but please be aware the explanations will add time. If you want lists without explanations, the charge is $10 for each list of the three lists.

NOTE:

We calculate all charts using the Tropical positions unless you specifically request the Sidereal. Both are valid. Most people in the US use Tropical.
